SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

The Gospel today focuses on the mercy of the incarnation. In Ephesus, John's community knew many synagogues that said Jesus was a great prophet but not divine. They also knew of the Docetists, who said Christ was only divine and not at all human. John attempts to show that Christ is both fully human and fully divine throughout his Gospel account. In this particular example, Jesus performs an incredible miracle to show his divine authority. But he acts at the behest of his mother in order to help relatives who would be embarrassed to run out of wine. What is more human than doing a favor for your mother?

Help Me to Be Human

God help me to be human. Help me to be able to appreciate and bring out the best in everyone around me. You have created man so that he is capable to appreciate consciously all the gifts that you have given him. Lord, help me to appreciate all that you have given me. Help me to be truly human.

Bishop McKnight's
January prayer intention for our Local Church

As we begin a new year, may the opportunities for the grace to clearly recognize the dignity of life, education and ecumenism allow us to better support our brothers and sisters who need the warmth of Christ's love and our compassion during this winter season.

Let Us Pray

Lord Jesus Christ, in your communion with Father Korte, Father Nimwesiga and all the priests throughout the world, I ask you to bless and sanctify them and make them holy. Strengthen and protect them against evil and temptation. Be a joy and a companion, a comfort and a consolation, and lead them forever on the narrow path that leads to Your Eternal Kingdom. Eternal Father, in your infinite mercy, overlook my sins and failings and hear my prayer.
